There were many good points brought out by the people who testified.

The illnesses to the aged brought on by air pollution were all true, but it should have been brought out that the seeds for those illnesses were sown by the pollution to our environment during our youthful years.

There are a great many cases of asthma in our young people that didn't exist, when I was growing up in the 1920s. Those illnesses are a direct result of the contaminants in the air brought about by coal firing industrial plants, automobiles and trucks.

We must clean up our fuel and coal firing industries to clean up our air. We owe this to all of our citizens.
